Popular Attraction Com- ing

"The Shepherd's Call" is a stupendous attraction, backed by the Perry Amusement Co., with eleven years' reputation behind them for good clean attractions. Carry full acting cast and feature vaudeville singing and dancing between the acts.

Mr. Fred Harris will be seen in the title role. "The Shepherd" is "The Shepherd's Call" at the Lyric theatre, Bellevue, on Monday night next.
He is not only a finished actor but a type fitted to this part, supported by an excellent cast of seven people.
(Not how many but how good) Story of the play viz: A young school mistress who has fallen in the east, runs away to Montana and starts life over again. She is making good until she meets a man from the east who threatens to tell her past to his friend who is her sweetheart, and a minister of the gospel. Pleading does no good and she is left heartbroken upon the snow. The old Shepherd in returning from his fold, finds her and escorts her into the church where the new minister is preaching. Mr. Tommy Grant as Nolan Crane, the minister, is another great part in this play. Miss Mildred Aubrey as Helene, the school maam from the east, in the leading role of her sex was also selected as a true type for the part. Toby, the silly kid, and his school mates will keep you bubbling with laughter.
Mr. Billy Arthur will be seen as Toby.

Good clean specialties will be introduced between acts, and remember Mr. Perry's guarantee with all his shows. Your money's worth or your money back. Special scenery for every act, including the great snow scene in Montana amongst the hills.

A NIGHT OF TERROR

Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the house to relieve it. Many mothers have passed nights of terror in this situation. A little forethought will enable you to avoid all this.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand.
For sale by all dealers.

Mrs. C. Baumer, of Lundbreck is visiting her daughters at the local telephone exchange.

Two Killed at Hillcrest Mine

Hillcrest was the scene of another fatal accident on Friday night, when two men, named William Thomas and Pacific Simette were instantly killed, the cause of the accident being the snapping of a rope cable on the No. 2 slope.
The accident occurred about 5.30, just as the men were about to come off shift. The bodies were brutally mangled.

The rope which caused the loss of the two lives had been inspected only recently, and had been passed.
A coroner's inquest was held on Saturday before Coroner Pinkney.

Thomas was an old-timer in the Paseo coal fields and was of Welsh birth, and a general favorite with his fellow workmen. He leaves a family. Simette was of Italian birth and unmarried.

The funerals took place at Hillcrest on Sunday afternoon and were largely attended.

Popham-Albert Nuptials

A very pleasing event took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. D. C. Drain, on Saturday evening last, when Mr. N. E. Popham, of the Alberta Government Telephones, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Adella Albert. Rev. J. F. Hunter performed the ceremony. After a dainty supper had been served, partaken of by a number of immediate friends and relatives, the young couple entrained for Pincher Creek, where they will reside.

To Dependents of Those at The Front

We are asked by the Alberta headquarters of the Canadian Patriotic Fund to request all who are entitled to benefit under the Canadian Patriotic Fund, that is the wives, mothers and other dependent relatives of men who have gone to the front, to communicate with the secretary, John Blue, at Edmonton, and their case will receive prompt attention. It is feared that there are some who are not receiving this money they are entitled to. In a number of cases the addresses given by the soldier have been very vague, with the result that the committee have a number of cheques but do not know where to send them.

Local and General

The high wind of Monday night did damage to the extent of about $1,000 to the plant of the Rocky Mountain Cement Co.

The old British battleship Bulwark was blown up by her own magazine at Sheerness on Wednesday afternoon, entailing a loss of over 700 lives.

The Blairmore Quadrille Club will hold a dance in the dining room of the Alberta hotel on Monday night next. A general invitation is extended to prospective members and their friends.

A. A. Sparks, proprietor of the Cosmopolitan hotel, this week received a postal card from M. Plas-sard, former assistant-manager of the West Canadian Collieries Co., who left Blairmore several months ago to join the French army.

A sitting of the board of license commissioners was held at Macleod yesterday, when the applications of Mrs. J. B. Ruld for a hotel license and Michel Rose for a wholesale license came up for consideration. The commissioners' decision will be rendered on December 22nd.

A Good One!

The undersigned is pleased to notice that out of seven gentlemen who signed a petition opposing my application for a wholesale license not one was a Liberal supporter, and the majority were not even ratepayers of the Town of Blaimore.

DECLARES WAR ON COLDS

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "do's" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

- "Don't sit in a draughty car."
- "Don't sleep in hot rooms."
- "Don't avoid the fresh air."
- "Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Over-eating reduces your resistance."
- "To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers."

Ralph Huestis, son of Rev. C. H. Huestis, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, has been accepted as a member of the veterinary corps of 250 now being sent by the Dominion government from Ottawa, and is now on his way to the front.

German Shipping Arrested

In the history of sea warfare, there is nothing comparable with the strange situation of German overseas shipping in all the most recent months. It followed instantly on the declaration of war. There were over 2,000 German steamers, nearly 5,000 tons gross, at sea when hostilities opened. The German sailing ships—mostly of small size—numbered 2,700. These vessels were distributed over the seas far and wide. Some—scores of them, in fact—have been captured, others run for neutral ports, the sailings of others were cancelled, and the heads of the German mercantile navy suddenly stopped beating. What must be the feelings of their sailors and the other pleasers as they contemplate the rule, at least temporary ruin, of years of splendid enterprise? The strategic advantages enjoyed by England in a war against Germany, lying as she does like a butcher upon Germany's approach to the overseas world, have never been understood by many of Germany's statesmen. She powers have some conception of what would happen, but it is doubtful if even they anticipated that in less than a week the great engine of commercial activity over the world would be brought so completely to a standstill—London Telegraph.

Her Party Speech

Lucille was a carefully brought up little girl of five, and she returned in high glee from her first party. "I was a good girl, mamma," she announced, "and I talked nice all the time."

"Did you remember to say something nice to Mrs. Applegate just before leaving?" asked her mother. "Oh, yes I did," responded Lucille. "I said at her that I was going to myself very much Mrs. Applegate. I had lots more to eat than I expected to have."

Europe's Much-Contested Empire

Prussia's Emperor William I, 1830, and the Tribuna (Rome) celebrates this anniversary by recounting the perpetual defeat which Austria armies have suffered in war. This record is summarized by such slight allusion to the Tribuna as rather an ill omen for Kaiser Wilhelm and his forces. The following is given by the Tribuna as a list of the unfortunate battles in which the flag of Austria went down:

1615-1616 (The Thirty Years' War) Austria was defeated by Gustavus Adolphus at Leipzig in 1631; at Lutten in 1632. Pomerania was occupied by the enemy and the Austrians finally beaten by the French and forced to sue for peace.

1653-In this year the Austrians were defeated by the Turks, and the Emperor Leopold fled from Vienna and sought the assistance of John Sobieski of Poland, and the allies then put to flight the Turks, who had gathered round the walls of Vienna.

1707-1710—This was the war of the Spanish succession. Prince Eugene of Savoy defeated the French in Italy; and joining his forces with those of Marlborough, he routed the French at Oudenarde in 1708, and at Malplaquet in 1709.

1716—Prince Eugene beat the Turkish subjects of Austria for a second time at Belgrade.

1716—Frederick the Great possessed Austria of Silesia, and after a severe engagement at Mollwitz, put the Austrians to flight.

1757—In the Seven Years' War, Frederick the Great defeated the Austrians at the battle of Prague.

1757—The Austrians endured a terrible defeat at Lutten.

1760—At Torgau and at Liepzig, the Austrians suffered a terrible defeat as they did in 1763 at Presburg. Napoleon, in this latter end of the eighteenth century, appeared upon the scene and drove the Austrians from Italy, after his triumphant victories at Lodi, Arcola, and Rivoli, and after their final defeat at the battle of Marengo and Montebello. Napoleon's triumph over the Austrians reached its summit at Austerlitz, where Vienna fell before his advancing forces, and was occupied by the French. For a second time Vienna was captured in 1809, after the Austrians had been driven from the mull, Aspern and Essling. Fifty years afterward came the battles of Solferino and Sadowa, which drove the Austrians from Italy. Finally the Seven Weeks' War, in which the Prussians were out to pieces, and the Prussians, commanded by Moltke and Prince Frederick at Sadowa.

Food Supply and Public Needs

Not unnaturally the outbreak of war led in the early days to a run in stores of food, and prices began to shoot up. The government took steps to prevent this, and the form of panic, as they did to prevent the public from hoarding food.

The board of agriculture and fisheries has been able to announce that the supply of food is adequate for the running short, and it is confidently expected that the situation in the United Kingdom at the present time is not so bad as it was at the outbreak of the war.

The board of agriculture and fisheries has been able to announce that the supply of food is adequate for the running short, and it is confidently expected that the situation in the United Kingdom at the present time is not so bad as it was at the outbreak of the war.

Motor cars owned by private individuals have been requisitioned for the purpose of distributing bread in the mornings. This reflects upon what the public has brought home to the mind is that government has practically assumed control of all the vital processes of the country with amazing efficiency. They are not ministering the railways managers, and are subdividing even the war news published from day to day. We believe with all our hearts that the collective mind which was before the war a mere rudimentary organ has become an extraordinarily perfect intelligence and will, under the nose of a colossal crisis British society has practically been socialized, almost by a stroke of a pen.

Young Arthur had the study of anatomy at school, and had shown interest in the study of the human body as he was hungry eating a generous slice of bread and molasses, and the school of a holy and simple plenty. "Mother, I know where my liver is, but where is my bacon?"

War Duty on Coffee

The new coffee tariff makes a considerable addition to the duty upon, and the consequent cost of coffee, in Great Britain tea is the favorite war tax bearer, though sugar has generally had to bear a share of the burden.

The berry is really a luxury and might well be taxed, along with tobacco, spirits and such like luxuries. In fact, the custom of coffee-drinking is relatively recent among the peoples of Europe and their descendants in America. For a long time after it was first brought west from Arabia and Turkey coffee was under the ban of the church. It was not until 1652 that the first house that made a specialty of serving coffee was opened in London; a little later it was introduced into France.

Thence the practice has spread until the amount now consumed the world over is enormous. At first coffee came only from Northern Africa, Arabia and Turkey; then the Dutch began experimenting, and succeeded in cultivating it in Java, and the French in the West Indies.

The story goes that in 1760 a Portuguese, Joao Alberto Castello Branco, planted a bush of coffee in Brazil. Thanks to the peculiarly favorable soil and climate, Brazil soon outstripped all other lands in the production of coffee. The uplands of the state of Sao Paulo produce more than half of all the enormous amount of coffee that is consumed in the world today. There are between 15,000 and 20,000 plantations, employing hundreds of thousands of laborers, and the plantations are so vast that they grow millions of trees. No more beautiful sight can be seen than the plantations in full bloom. The flowers are white and grow in clusters, and the will with a perfume.

Brazil has a "valorization" scheme which artificially keeps up the price of coffee. Hence if that country wishes to meet the war tax and keep the use of this product, it can easily do so through its scheme, which is based on the fact that the coffee of the South American republics.

Wireless Telephones

That the next few years will see some remarkable developments in wireless telephony is forecasted by the surprising experiments which have just been successfully carried out. Mr. Marcello Holt, an expert in wireless telephony, has established a wireless telephone between his office in the Strand and his country house at Fawley, Hampshire, 67 miles away.

"Already," he says, "we have had conversations with Berlin. We could hear all the words, but the test was very promising, seeing that we were talking over 600 miles, and recently we had wireless telephone communication between warships forty miles apart, which is entirely satisfactory."

Even more astonishing, however, is the wireless telephone apparatus invented by two French naval officers, Commander Colin and Lieutenant Jean, which is capable of transmitting messages over a distance of 150 miles. Every tone and inflection of the speaker's voice is preserved as if he had been in the same room.

"Two years ago these two officers succeeded in transmitting speech by wireless telephony, but the apparatus was not very reliable. Continuing their experiments, however, they have now perfected a machine which should prove of the highest importance and value to the commercial world."

According to Captain Colin, his apparatus possesses the signal advantage that it can be used for telegraphy as well as telephonic purposes, a fact which makes it of great importance for war purposes on account of the rigorous accuracy it ensures.

Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms without any inconvenience to the patient, and do not affect the bowels. They are taken by the patient, and are passed through the bowels with the excreta. They thoroughly cleanse the stomach and bowels and leave them in a condition not favorable to worms, and there will be no revival of the pests.

Dr. Your heart has a very queer beat, doesn't it? I should say, James—Aw, that's not my heart you hear, doc; it's my dollar watch. It makes a noise like a motorcycle.

Doctor's Wife—How did you find the patient this morning, James?

Doctor—It looks to me as if she's in for a serious illness, but I don't want to be too sanguine—Life.

Agent—I came to deliver your book on "How to Play the Piano."

Fire Beds

In fall, winter and spring, when the nights are very cold on the desert, prospectors, adventurers and all others who have occasion to sleep in the open find the "fire bed" a feature of the camp.

The sides of this pit are backed up with the sand taken from the trench, which is then tamped for the fire, which is built extending the full length of the pit so that it will warm both the backed sand at the sides and the bottom of the pit. When the sand has been heated the large building sticks are thrown out, leaving all of the live coals in the pit; this is done for the sleep seeker to lie down and wrap himself in a blanket, if he has one, and go to sleep in comfort—Independent.

"Shall we not know?" was the short and witty line an ardent lover displayed to the love of his life.

But, where the strangeness of the matter comes in, the girl replied, "I shall not. You may do as you please."

LEARNING THINGS

We Are All in the Apprentice Class

When a simple change of diet brings back from the great the patient is briefly told. A lady writes: "After being afflicted for years with nervousness and heart trouble, I received a shock four years ago that left me in a hospital. That's the reason I was so ill."

"I got no relief from doctors nor remedies I tried, because I didn't know that coffee was daily putting me back more than the doctors could put me ahead." (Tea, also, is harmful, because it contains the same poisonous substance as coffee.)

"Finally at the suggestion of a friend I left off coffee and began the use of Postum. In a few days my condition gradually improved in health until for the past 6 or 8 months I have been able to sleep peacefully and those terrible sinking, weak, nervous attacks have been cured."

"My troubles all came from the use of coffee which I had drunk from childhood, yet they disappeared when I quit coffee and took up the use of Postum. Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont."

Many people marvel at the effects of leaving off tea and coffee and drinking Postum, but there is nothing marvelous about it—only common sense. Tea and coffee are destroyers—Postum is a restorer. That's the reason.

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellbeing."

Postum comes in two forms: one in a can, and the other in a well-bellied, life and sick packages.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder, and it is the best food in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage. Postum is a restorer. That's the reason. The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

It is gratifying to know that the Canadian Peace Centenary Association is proceeding with its educational work, that literature is being prepared for the schools, that prizes will be offered for the best essays on Anglo-American relations, that church services will be held on February 14, next and that the organization is being kept in touch with a view to holding of public festivities after the conclusion of the war. "Bardners"

Gott, Gott, dear Gott, attention please
Your bardner Vilhelm's here
And has a word or two to say

Into your private ear;
Scorn away all others now
And listen well to me

For what I say concerns us much Mendell and Shernany.

You know, dear Gott, I was your friend,
And from mein hour of birth
I quietly let you rule de Heffen

Vile I ruled o'er the earth
Und ven I addt mein soldiers
Of by-gone battle days

I gladly split the glory
Und gave you half the brain
In every way I tried to prove

Mein heart to you was true
Und only glained mein honest share
Of the glory of de Heffen

You could not halt a better friend
In Sky or Land or Sea
Dan Kaiser Vilhelm number two

De Lord of Shernany.
So vat I say, dear Gott, is dis
Dat ve should still be friends

Or else I have to send my foes
To meet their bitter end
If you, dear Gott, vill dis me do

I'll nothing ask again
Und you and I vill badner be
For evermore—Amen.

Und listen Gott, it must be quick De help to you send
Or else I have to stop de attack

Und only play de fied.
So four und twenty hour I gif
To make the Allies run

Und put me safe into mein place—
De middle of de Sun
If you'll do dis, I'll do my part

I'll tell de world de truth
But if you don't I must think
It is an hostile act

Den war at once I vill declare Und in mein anger rise
Und send mein Zepplin ships to wage

A fight up in de skies.
Dis ultimatum, now, dear Gott
Is von of mein mind

Mein mind is settled up to clean
De world void of de floor
Because you vas mein bardner, Gott

So help at voice, or use I'll be De Emperor of Heffen.

The above was sent to F. Campbell, of Gtoto, from an Ottawa friend.

Preachers Responsible For War

Pastor Russell, speaking at the New York City Temple last Sunday, laid two heavy charges against the sects of Christendom and especially against the preachers.

He declared the present war largely the result of false religious teachings. The Czar of Russia, impelled by the erroneous theologies of the Dark Ages, believes it the mission of Russia and the Greek Church to control the world, and views the present war as a step in that direction.

Similarly King George V, head of the British nation and the Church of England, imagines a similar destiny for his nation and church. Finally Kaiser Wilhelm III tells his army and the Lutheran church of Germany that he is ordained by the Holy Spirit as the sword of the Lord to punish, to destroy opponents of German progress, whose destiny, he believes, is world-wide. Centuries ago the kings of Europe were told that they were the sword of the Lord and of the church; and they still believe it. Christian teachers have long ago gotten free from those delusions, but they have not unlearned the kings and the peoples. Their neglect of their duty is largely responsible for this war. They are blood-guilty!

Pastor Russell further charged the ministers with responsibility for the revolution and anarchy which will follow the war, according to the Bible. They no longer believe the doctrine of eternal torment of all but owe a thousand of humanity, yet they have not told the people. They have allowed the people to continue believing that blasphemous doctrine of the Dark Ages. Education has taught the ministers that the Bible teaches that all are to come from Shem, Ham, and the tomb, during the thousand years of Christ's Millennium. But the preachers have neglected to preach the resurrection of the dead, and have told the people falsely that the dead are not dead, but alive somewhere mostly in hell or in purgatory. The result has been the driving of the masses far away from God and from the Bible in an attempt to forget these horrible teachings, which, he believed, and kept in mind, would have saved the world from the present war.

As a result of the millions of Christians have a true knowledge of the God of All Grace, the Father of Mercies, and few have any love for the Bible or any particular knowledge of its real teaching. Thus the masses are prepared, by their lack of faith, for the wild unreason of anarchy. They have too good sense to favor anarchy under favorable conditions; but in the great crisis which the Bible predicts, these without God and without hope, will be the menace and the cause of the downfall of present civilization. He rejoiced, however, that man's extremity would prove to be God's opportunity—that, according to the Bible, in the midst of the greatest trouble the world has ever known, Messiah will interpose and rescue humanity from itself. Thus would come the desire of all nations for which we have so long prayed, "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth, even as in Heaven."

Verdict in Death of Cimette and Thomas
The following verdict was returned by the jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of P. Cimette and W. B. Thomas:
"That P. Cimette and W. B. Thomas came by their deaths from an accident caused by a rope breaking which was hauling a trip of four cars up No. 2 slope of Hillcrest mine, which broke and allowed cars to run back, which struck the deceased men, one of whom died on November 19th, 1914, between No. 2 north level and No. 2 south level."

"Rider: That rope was defective and suggest that an English speaking man in future employ as car hauler at the top of the slope, with instructions that if anything is found wrong with the coupling or rope that he must hold the trip until examined by the master mechanic or some other official of the company."

"According to the evidence we cannot attach any blame to anyone."

Frank Happenings

Joe Johnston left here for the Drumheller district on Monday.

BORN—On Thursday, November 26th, to Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boureau, a daughter.

Dr. P. W. Richards, of Macleod, was in town on Thursday, and registered at the Senatorium.

Harry Sobey, blacksmith, left here the early part of the week for the Drumheller district.

Jack Longworth, of Bellevue, was visiting his brother here the early part of the week.

Please note the Frank Meat Market's ad on our front page. Prices are away down.

Fred Padgett, of Bellevue, was down renewing acquaintances on Sunday last. Oh, what a difference!

Wm. Simpson and J. Delaney left for Calgary on Thursday morning to attend the annual convention of stationary engineers.

We are sorry to hear that Rev. Mr. Cook, of Bellevue, will not be able to take part in the basketball games for some time, owing to the injury received in last week's game, in which his foot was badly sprained.

Considerable damage was done around town on Wednesday by the heavy wind. Another portion of the tipple was carried away and several poles and wires were blown down. The C.P.R. standpipes were also moved from its foundation.

The night classes commenced on Monday evening at the school house. The first class to be started was the preparatory class under Mr. Lavie, engineer for the coal company. The class in English was started Tuesday evening under Rev. W. T. Young. The singing class which was to have been taken in charge by J. B. McDonald failed to materialize, owing to insufficient attendance, but it is hoped it will proceed at next meeting.

Great credit is due Rev. Mr. Young for the interest he is taking in the establishment of a gymnasium. Such an institution will be a boon to the town this winter, and it is hard to realize what might develop from it in the future. It is up to all now to show their appreciation of the efforts already put forward by joining the club or otherwise assisting. The gym class is to be derived by the members will repay them a hundred fold what ever the expense may be. Get out and help things along and don't forget that Mr. Young is a friend of sport and has always been an enthusiastic motor.

Marsh's recruits met the gymnasium first team on Wednesday evening. The last three teams met was when the recruits made their debut on the field. Since then the latter have been carrying everything before them. On this occasion—the "gym" team fully expected to win out. The team lined up as follows:

Marsh (capt.), Tristram, Parker, Patterson and Kennedy.
Gymnasium—Harvey (capt.), Hamilton, Big Dan Clark, Rev. Hart.

The game was well played from the start. The "gym" secured the first penalty, but failed to score. The recruits then took the lead, which they maintained throughout the game. At the end of the first period the recruits led by 16 to 4. The second period was still more exciting. The "gym" tried hard to get ahead, but the recruits' staying powers proved too strong for them, the recruits winning out by 23 to 13. Parker scored 21 points and Kennedy 2. Parker is some scorer. Another game will probably take place next Wednesday evening.

Boosting for Blairmore (?)
A petition signed by a number of so-called "leading citizens," and presented to the Board of License Commissioners at Macleod on Thursday, placed the prohibition of Blairmore at 700.
